

RIBA  Awards

2012 Awards
East

Celebrating the best of UK Architecture

Feeringbury Farm Barn

Winner of RIBA East Spirit of Ingenuity Award

Winner of
RIBA East
Conservation Award

Architect
Hudson Architects

Client
Ben Coode-Adams

Contractor
NS Restorations

Where others might have given up on this barn conversion, the architects have thought creatively to overcome local authority conservation rules. Large roof-lights are concealed under a plane of expanded steel mesh, maintaining the pure agricultural appearance that the planners had wanted but allowing light into the barn.

From a distance the roof forms a sculptural monolithic mass that unfolds on approach into a charming complex of agricultural buildings from different eras. Inside spaces are filled with numerous materials found, reclaimed, and reused.

Images James Brittain